

TRAIN WRECK OF EMOTION

Intro: 8 measures

I can see it all so clearly as I'm looking back
I was headed down the wrong way on a one way track
There must be a million chances that a fool can take
Well this fool took everyone and never hit the brakes

I'm lying in the rubble, cinders, smoke and ash
My heart's still pounding from the impact of the crash
I can see tomorrow's headlines heart broke from blind devotion
Just another victim of a stop train wreck of emotion

We were burning like a furnace as he poured on the coal
Drive wheel's a turning love's on a roll
Faster and faster I swear we left the ground
But when that smoke had cleared he was no where around

I'm lying in the rubble, cinders, smoke and ash
My heart's still pounding from the impact of the crash
I can see tomorrow's headlines heart broke from blind devotion
Just another victim of a stop train wreck of emotion

Rumors are flying about how our love had failed
But I know it was him that pulled the switch and left me de-railed

I'm lying in the rubble, cinders, smoke and ash
My heart's still pounding from the impact of the crash
I can see tomorrow's headlines heart broke from blind devotion
Just another victim of a stop train wreck of emotion

Just one more victim of a stop train wreck of emotion
